We are a Family Winery, founded in 1989 by Félix Callejo. We are currently the second generation, Cristina, José Félix, Beatriz and Noelia Callejo who continue this exciting legacy.

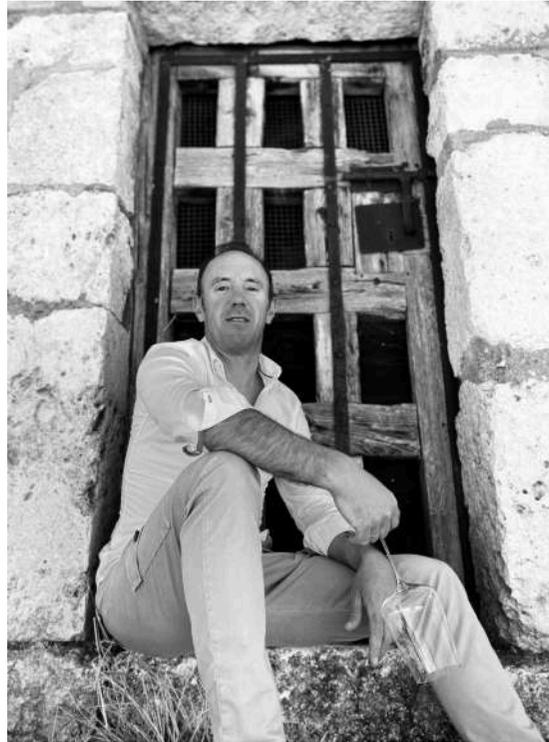

· Beatriz ·

· Noelia ·

· José Félix ·

· Cristina ·

The experiences in other wineries of both José Félix (Petrus - France, 1999; Torres - Chile, 2000) and Noelia (Araujo - Napa, 2007 and 2010; Cobos - Mendoza, 2008) have provided the basis for further developing a philosophy dump on the soil and to become Vignerons.

In the year 2000, we began to work under organic management in our vineyards, a clean, respectful viticulture, full of life for the soils and therefore for our wines.

This step, made us and makes us return to the past to be able to look to the future. Observe our surroundings, the landscape that surrounds us, the culture that we have acquired thanks to our ancestors always linked to the world of wine and the authenticity of our land.

Our landscape,

It is located in the small village of Sotillo de la Ribera, on the northern edge of the Duero river basin, in a privileged environment, due to its high altitude (830 - 930 m), where the highland of the highest areas, of limestone soils, they give way as we follow the erosion of the valley, to gravel soils (old river beds), sand in the pine area, and clays in the lower areas.

Our vineyard is formed by 27 plots distributed along the Sotillo de la Ribera profile and located in different places forming 54,8 Ha in total.

The handling in the winery accompanies the respect in the vineyard, with the manual harvest, double sorting table and work by gravity that allows to maintain the essence achieved in the vineyard.

THIS EVOLUTION TOWARDS A DEEPER UNDERSTANDING OF OUR ENVIRONMENT IS THE ONE THAT PUSHES US TO EXPRESS IT IN OUR
WINES, EACH ONE WITH OWN IDENTITY, MARKED BY ITS ORIGIN OF DIFFERENT SOILS.

GRAN CALLEJO

“For the elaboration of a "Great" a lot of patience is required. We select those loose soils, where sands predominate, at altitudes that allow maintaining a balanced, elegant Tinto Fino, that lasts and evolves in this long aging of 2 years in French oak and more than 3 years in bottle. Always faithful to our style of preserving the essence that we find in the vineyard, it is in this “gran” where we see the potential of our vineyards in Sotillo and how time so finely shapes the Tinto Fino.”

vintage 2014

INFORMATION

The weather of vintage 2014 can be considered as typical in Ribera del Duero. The total rain was 440l/m2. Between november 2013 and july 2014 we had 400l. This means the vineyard had good hydric reserves for the dry months of summer. Regarding temperatures we did not have spring frosts. The beginning of summer was warm and dry with high contrast day-night in september. This month is the most important for good maturation and accumulation of fenolic compounds in the skin of the raisin. The vineyard cycle is in advance with regard 2013. The harvest starts 27th september with the white grape and ends 6th october with red grape. Excellent maturation of the grapes, well balanced in aromas, acidity, sugar and an optimal sanitary state.

TASTING NOTES

Its color is ruby cherry. Notes on the nose of ripe fruit, minerals, herbs, eucalyptus, white pepper, cocoa and hints of scrubland. The taste is fresh with sensations of red fruit, balsamic, cocoa berry, laurel and tannin still scarred.

FÉLIX CALLEJO

FÉLIX CALLEJO

“We began to elaborate Félix Callejo in 2002. We were observing in the tasting of grapes that we made prior to the harvest, the nuances so different that we noticed in the limestone soils. Finally, we decided that year, to select some Tinto Fino from the limy chalks of several vineyards to more than 900 m. of altitude and ferment separately. The result was spectacular! Enthusiastic with the finesse and elegance that the limestone soils provide to the Tinto Fino, year after year we witness the evolution of these magnificent soils”

vintage 2016

INFORMATION

2016 begins with a very rainy winter. It registers 250mm of well-distributed rain throughout January, February and March. April and May also had abundant rainfall leaving in the vineyards good water reserve. The summer months were dry and hot as usual, but winter and spring precipitation caused a delay in the vineyard cycle. Although, the heat of August and September managed to advance a little the harvest, which was made in the first two weeks of October. The grape obtained a good maturation with abundant quantity and an excellent sanity thanks to the thinning of the clusters in summer and absence of rains during the vintage.

TASTING NOTES

It has a cherry red color with garnet rim. Intense nose, aromas of ripe fruit, blueberry, spicy, rosemary, clove, balsamic, ink, creamy oak. The mid-palate is powerful and tasty, fruity sensations appear and aromatic nose, plus chocolate, ripe tannins, and a long and persistent end.

MAJUELOS DE CALLEJO

MAJUELOS DE CALLEJO

“Majuelo is a traditional Castilian word used by our grandparents to refer to vineyards, usually small, distributed strains irregularly and always on marginal, poor land.

From here comes the idea of making this wine, from a selection of Tinto Fino in gravel soils, which are marginal and very poor soils, with a little vigor, achieving a perfect balance giving very fine and elegant wines, with a long journey in time. This wine transported us to our childhood, when all the grandchildren helped our grandmother Daría in the vintage of her Majuelos in Sotillo de la Ribera.”

FINCA VALDELROBLE

“This paraje (place) is located at the edge of the Sotillo páramo, at 930 m. of altitude, it is our highest vineyard. In the 80's our father destined this place to a landing strip of small planes, given the height and plain of the land. A controversial idea for the time.

The soils of the páramos de Sotillo are limestone soils. The parent rock, at the edges of the páramos, is very close to the surface, with the presence of loose stone that favors drainage and aeration. It is an isolated vineyard, the only one around, like our father with his landing strip, we became adventurers in 2004, the result is a unique blend of Tinto Fino, and Merlot.”

INFORMATION

After the year horribilis 2017 in Ribera del Duero, this year is characterized by an abundant and generous harvest, thanks to the significant rainfall that occurred in spring, recovering the vineyards all their potential.

The winter was cold and with precipitations well distributed in the form of snow. The spring was unusually rainy, with moderate temperatures, causing a certain delay in the vineyard cycle. Later in summer, temperatures recovered with little precipitation. The development of the vineyard was optimal thanks to the water reserves accumulated in the soil. The harvest was made at the beginning of October. The weight of the berries was high and large bunches. Abundant and high quality harvest.

TASTING NOTES

Lively, deep, dense red colour that tints the glass and the tears running down its sides. Deep, delicate aromas of wild forest flowers and the fresh breezes of the high plains mingle harmoniously with ripe tropical fruit characters. Mineral touches reminiscent of underground limestone rock come through against a backdrop of spicy and smoky notes. Hints of just-picked grapes appear on the palate along with fresh tannins that are yet to become fine and polished. Mouth-filling on the palate with a fine-grained texture; the full ripeness of the grapes shows through, followed by a long, lingering finish.

INFORMATION

This harvest is characterized by being of high quality and very typical in Ribera del Duero. Although low rainfall (only 365 l / m2 were recorded during the year), well distributed in winter, spring and the month of June. Winter temperatures were not too cold, which favored a somewhat earlier bud break than usual, towards the end of April. The month of June was hot but on the contrary the summer there were no days of temperatures as high as the harvest '18, which favored a complete maturation. We arrived in September with the advanced cycle, the harvest started at the end of September and the beginning of October. Excellent grape quality, small clusters and great sugar / acid balance.

"This wine represents a collection of sites located in Sotillo de la Ribera, at altitudes between 855 and 870 m altitude. They are franco-clayey soils, with limestone bottoms, very loose soils, and oriented to the south, which allow a perfect maturation.
